Announces OEM Relationship with
Trojan Battery Company

Fort Worth, TX (August 2009) – Martex Global Enterprise, LLC is pleased to announce Trojan Battery Company as the OEM supplier of the 2010 HuntVe electric vehicle product line. With over 80 years of experience, Trojan Battery Company is the world's leading manufacturer of deep cycle battery technology. "A good test for the layman of a battery brand's reputation and product worthiness is to ask someone in the battery business. Trojan batteries are the best money can buy hands down," says Rick Roe, Martex Global Enterprise Vice President of Operations. "Just find your closest battery dealer and ask."

The HuntVe is an electric 4x4 option to other off road UTVs such as the Kawasaki Mule or John Deere Gator. Without sound or smell, the HuntVe is able to traverse rough terrain within a 20+ mile range.

The HuntVe has been in production since 2004 and is manufactured in Fort Worth, Texas. For more information contact Geno Petralli, National Sales Manager, Martex Global Enterprise LLC. Phone: 888-554-5953 or geno@huntve.com. Web site: www.huntve.com
